

PSALM 36

- ¹ For the end, A Psalm, by David the servant of the Lord.
The transgressor, that he may sin, says within himself, that he has no fear of God.
- ² For he has dealt craftily before him, to discover his iniquity and hate it.
- ³ The words of his mouth are transgression and deceit; he is not inclined to understand how to do good.
- ⁴ He devises iniquity on his bed; he gives himself to every evil way; and does not abhor evil.
- ⁵ O Lord, Your mercy is in the heavens; and Your truth reaches to the clouds.
- ⁶ Your righteousness is as the mountains of God, Your judgments are as a great deep; O Lord, You will preserve men and beasts.
- ⁷ How have You multiplied Your mercy, O God! So the children of men shall trust in the shelter of Your wings.
- ⁸ They shall be fully satisfied with the fatness of Your house; and You shall cause them to drink of the full stream of Your delights.
- ⁹ For with You is the fountain of life; in Your light we shall see light.
- ¹⁰ Extend Your mercy to them that know You; and Your righteousness to the upright in heart.
- ¹¹ Let not the foot of pride come against me, and let not the hand of sinners move me.
- ¹² There the workers of iniquity have fallen; they are cast out, and shall not be able to stand.
