

PSALM 76

¹ For the end, among the Hymns, A Psalm of Asaph; a Song for the Assyrian.
God is known in Judah; His name is great in Israel.

² And His place has been in peace, and His dwelling place in Zion.

³ There He broke the power of the bows, the shield, and the sword, and the battle. Selah.

⁴ You wonderfully shine forth from the everlasting mountains.

⁵ All the simple ones in heart were troubled; all the men of wealth have slept their sleep, and have found nothing in their hands.

⁶ At Your rebuke, O God of Jacob, the riders on horses slumbered.

⁷ For You are to be feared; and who shall withstand You, because of Your anger?

⁸ You caused judgment to be heard from heaven; the earth feared, and was still,

⁹ when God arose to judgment, to save all the meek in heart. Selah.

¹⁰ For the inward thought of man shall give thanks to You, and the memorial of his inward thought shall keep a feast to You.

¹¹ Vow, and pay your vows to the Lord our God; all that are round about Him shall bring gifts,

¹² even to Him that is awesome, and that takes away the spirits of princes; to Him that is awesome among the kings of the earth.